Knowledge is Power

STRATEGIC RISK ANALYSIS (SRA)

- AAG's Security Risk Analysis (SRA) delivers clear, in-depth intelligence designed to help you navigate today's most complex security challenges. We connect the dots between geopolitical, technological, and operational risks, showing how emerging threats can ripple across industries and impact business continuity. Our analysts don't just outline what's happening—they explain why it matters in your specific context, offering forward-looking insights that support proactive decisions. Each SRA evaluates your current risk posture against shifting threat landscapes, providing actionable recommendations that strengthen resilience and reveal vulnerabilities before they affect your competitive edge.

REGIONAL REPORT (RR) / FUNCTIONAL REPORT (FR)

- AAG's Regional and Functional Reports break down complex global markets into clear, actionable intelligence. Using a three-stage process—identify, assess, prioritize—we deliver data-driven risk rankings that support confident market entry and growth strategies. Our country experts analyze political stability, regulations, security, and operational conditions, then translate their findings into consistent metrics for easy country-to-country comparisons. These reports act as a strategic guide, pointing out both opportunities and risks so you can allocate resources effectively across markets and functions.

Constellis solutions are cost-effective. Constellis tailors solutions to mission need, and can be quoted upon request.

ADVISORY REPORT (AR)

- AAG's Advisory Reports provide ongoing, tailored monitoring that evolves alongside your business. We start with a baseline assessment of your risk profile, then deliver regular updates focused on the developments most relevant to your operations and objectives. By filtering global events through your unique priorities, we help you separate background noise from genuine threats. With flexible delivery options and on-demand access to our experts, this service turns raw information into strategic insights, enabling leadership to make confident, informed decisions while keeping operations steady in unpredictable conditions.

CUSTOM-CRAFTED (CC)

- AAG's Custom Crafted Solutions are built around your unique needs. From weekly executive briefings to deep-dive partner investigations and targeted event assessments, we align products with your decision cycles and risk tolerance. Leveraging geopolitical analysis, investigative research, and market assessment, we deliver precise, timely intelligence to navigate complex business environments with confidence.
